

IEEE IES ICEM18 Manuscript Submission System

Confirmation of the Final Manuscript Submission

Thank you for your submission. Your manuscript entitled Design of a GaN Based Integrated Modular Motor Drive was received and stored on our server. You can still replace this manuscript with a newer version before the final submission deadline. Please print this page and write down your manuscript number. You will need that number when filling the conference registration forms.

AF-006971

Please follow this link to verify if we received your document correctly. It should open it in another window. Should you notice any problems please replace it with corrected version by performing final manuscript submission again.

Should you need to replace the older version of your manuscript any time before the deadline, go ahead and submit the new final version once again. You will also need to enter your password:

3174

You will also receive confirmation by e-mail that will be sent to mesutugur@gmail.com. After viewing or printing this page please return to the author manu by clicking Done Viewing button below.

Please take a minute and

Sign the IEEE Copyright Form

Noticed errors in this submission?

Should you not receive the confirmation e-mail, please login using the returning author entrance and access your final submission from the author menu. If you detect any errors either in your manuscript or in the data you provided in the submission form then proceed to resubmit/update the final manuscript with corrections. You can do it unlimited number of times by the final submission deadline.

Thank you.

Done Viewing

